

Social Narrative for Visiting The Walt Disney Family Museum with Family

I am going to The Walt Disney Family Museum. When I see the red brick building with the big red signs, I will know I am there! My family and I will explore the museum, learn new things, and have fun!

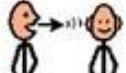

Before we enter the museum, or just inside the museum door, a security guard will ask to look in everyone's bag. I will open my bag for the security guard and wait for my family to do the same. If I don't have a bag, I can walk right in!

When I get into the museum, I will wait in line. Then, the museum staff will give my family and I our tickets to get into the museum. Now that I am in the museum, I will try my best to use my inside voice.

Voice volume level
5	Yelling
4	Outside voice talking across the room
3	Inside public voice answering a question in class
2	Inside private voice talking to person next to me
1	Whisper telling a secret
0	No Talking silence

The museum staff wears red sweaters. I will show my ticket to the museum staff when I enter the museum. Museum staff are adults who can teach me new things. They can also help me if I get lost.

My family and I will decide together what we want to see and do at the museum. We might not have time to see everything. I will try to cooperate with my family so that we can all have fun.

When we are in the museum, there are some things I can touch and some things I can't touch. I will ask an adult whether it is okay for me to touch an object.

In the galleries, I can look at artwork from Disney movies. Sometimes there are loud sounds or flashing lights. I will try to stay calm. If I need a break, I can take a seat somewhere quiet, or take the elevator downstairs to enjoy the big lawn out front.

If my family has tickets, I can watch a movie in the theater. The movies are only playing during certain times, so I will listen to my adult to find out when it is time for a movie. There might be loud noises or flashing lights. I will try to stay calm, but if I need a break, I can leave the theater and take a seat somewhere quiet, or go back upstairs and then outside to enjoy the big lawn and porch.

If there is a special exhibition, I can go with my family to a different building to view more artwork. I will walk on a sidewalk and across a parking lot to visit this building. I will stay on the sidewalk and close to my group while we walk through the parking lot.

If the museum is too loud and exciting, we can go to the porch to sit and take a break. On the porch, I can look at the water, the plants, and the birds. I will take deep breaths until I am ready to explore more.

When visiting the museum, I can take the stairs or the elevator. If I take the elevator, I will have to wait my turn and it may be crowded inside.

My family and I may visit the Museum Store. There are lots of toys and gifts in the store, and I will look at them but not touch them unless an adult says I can. It may be crowded in the store, so I will stay close to my family.

My family and I may visit the Museum Café. I will wait in line for the Café and will tell my adult what I want to eat. I will wait patiently for my food to be ready. Then, I will sit quietly in a Café chair and enjoy my food with my family.

At the end of my visit, I will wave goodbye to the red brick building. I had a wonderful time at The Walt Disney Family Museum!
